Penguin Loves Mev

In the UK

While I was shopping...

Mev's younger brother Corl and his girl friend Mel finally got married!

They didn't want
the traditional wedding.

So they decided to have a small party with only family and a few close friends.

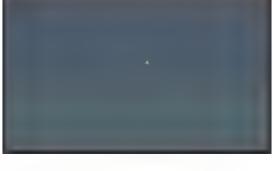
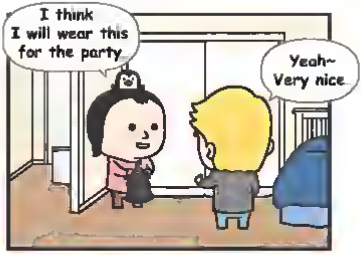
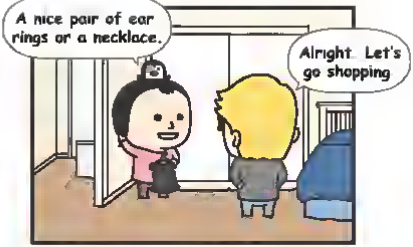
Even though it was a small party,
a party is a party,
so I wasn't sure what to wear.



Time flew by so quickly,
2 weeks left until the wedding party



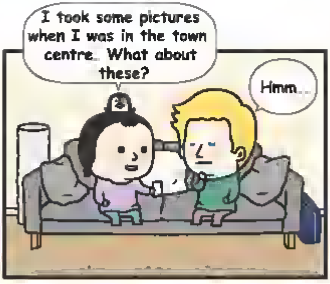
I chose a black dress that I bought a long time ago but had never worn.



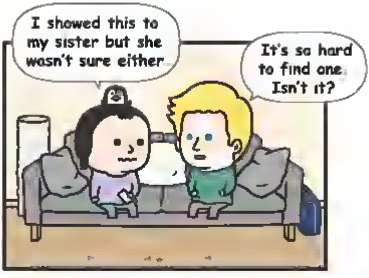
I only need a small detail.

On the weekend,
we went to shopping to Birminghom.

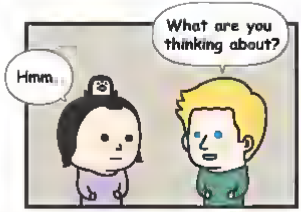
We came back home with nothing.



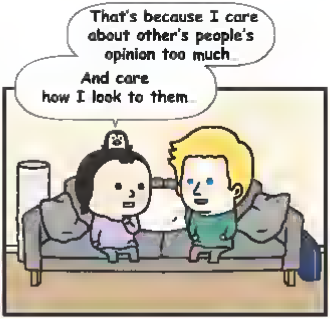
After that, I went to town centre alone and tried to find something that Mev would like.



But it was very hard to find one that every one says yes to.



Then I thought.



That's because I care about other's people's opinion too much
And care how I look to them

You know that I always ask you or my sister how I look with this or that Yeah

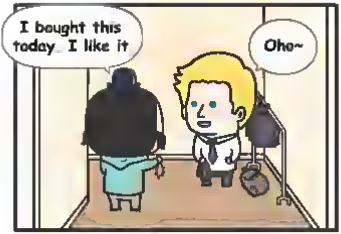
The next day, I could finish getting ready for the party.



The next day, I could finish getting ready for the party.

And that was a very good feeling.

I guess, this is what people call,
self-content.
